- Welcome! Opening prayer, praise reports
- FCCI update (conference, groups, Sept 4 This Is My Story)
- Today's topic: Trusted with little = trusted with much

“Whoever can be trusted with very little can also be trusted with much, and whoever is dishonest with very little will also be dishonest with much. --Luke 16:10

When I worked on the Luis Palau team from 1999-2001, we had a meeting with Luis at The Hartford Club. He said something that has resonated with me since, and tied in with my experiences in sales and marketing through the years. “Big doors turn on small hinges.” That was Luis’ way of paraphrasing what Jesus said in this passage.

No one bats 1.000%. We all drop the ball on some details and follow-ups. However, we need to be mindful of and diligent with the “little” opportunities that arise. In the flesh, we don’t want to mess with them. But in the Spirit, He wants us to seize the moment and trust Him for the outcome.

Let’s share some examples of this passage in our lives, and particularly in our business lives.
